Green Macomb Web Site Launches for Earth Day

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. – The office of the Macomb County Board of Commissioners has created Green Macomb, a Web site dedicated to green initiatives and information. The site is intended to keep the public abreast of county efforts to conserve energy, keep the environment clean, and preserve natural resources through its various departments and activities. The site, www.greenmacomb.com, will debut April 22, 2010.

Now in its infancy, Green Macomb will be an ongoing effort, with links to green resources and news added as it grows and develops. Local not-for-profit groups will also be able to contribute green-related activities and events to the community calendar.

Because of Macomb County's proximity to Lake St. Clair, the county has actively been involved in protecting and championing the environment — from launching clean water initiatives to creating a Lake St. Clair Recreation and Tourism Program Leader to assist with championing our greatest natural resource, the lakeshore.

"We want the public to know that the county does care about the environment, and that we are leading by example on a number of issues, such as energy conservation and protecting our water," Macomb County Commissioner Toni Mocerri, who led the effort to create Green Macomb, said. "Green Macomb is a good way for us to communicate our activities while providing information and resources, so that everyone can join us as we continue to build a greener future for Macomb County."
